Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This Sarsaparilla is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For the Renovation of the Hair.

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

BY REV. HENRY HARBAUGH, D. D.

I.
Es regert Heut—mir kann net naus,
Do's is so lonesome do im Haus:
M'r weess net Wie m'r macht,
Ich will mol thu als wer ich gle,
Un uf dur aewersht Speicher geh—
Dort hab ich oft gespielt.

II.
En Buvele bin ich widder yetz,
Wo sin mei Krettza un mei Kletz?
Now werren Haus gebaut!—
Es spielt sich dach net gut allen—
Ich bin yo ka Buvele meh!
Was klopt mei Herz so laut!

III.
Horch!—was en sunderbare Sach!—
Der Rega ruppelt uf em Dach
Gar ninamo wie er hot!
Ich hab sis g'hoert mit leichtem Hertz,
Now macht's mir kreisich Heimweh
Koennt heula war ich wot! [Schmertz,

IV.
M'r leba yuscht betrogerisch nei
Da's spieln un ins Buvele sei,
'S is so leicht zu thu,
For Epper sagt—"Nix un der Sach:
Horcht du der Rega uf em Dach—
Sagt er du waersht en Buh!"

V.
Des Spieln geht net—Soll ich fort?
Was is uf sella Balka dort?
Now bin ich widder Buh!
Dort hen m'r keschta ausgestreit,
Zu dera uf'll Kristdag Zeit—
Des's gleicha widder thu!

VI.
En Buvele sei—seil is derwert—
Die Keschta roschta af der Herdt—
Was war des en gekrach!
Seil is verbie, ich fuehl's im G'mied—
Er spielt en reeites Heimweh Lied,
Der Rega uf em Dach!

VII.
Dort steht die samm all Walnus kischt,
Ich wunner now was dorz drin lecht?
'S mus eppes 'bardig's sie,
Callender, Zeitung, Buecher—ho!
Die alte Sache hen sie da
All drunershit 'drouwersht nei!

VIII.
Now bin ich awer recht en Buh,
Well ich do widder seine thu,
Des alt belon, in sach.
Horch!—hoerscht du den Rega? yes indeed,
Er spielt en rechtes Heimweh Lied
Dort owe uf em Dach!

IX.
"Still Rega! Buvele spielt dahame,"
Die stemmer dort am Gumma Bame,
Stehn noch am alta Platz;
Dort bin ich alle Samstag hie,
Hab Saltz geholt for Schof un Kueh—
Salt war als Rale un Satz.

GYMNASTICS IN THE ADIRONDACK.

For nearly two miles we crept through the damp and chilly fog, up the Marion river, hearing nothing to interrupt the profound silence save the occasional plunge of a muskrat or the sputter of a frog skating along the surface of the water. But all of a sudden, when heart and hope began to fail, some distance ahead of us we heard the well known sounds, k-splash, k-splash, and knew that a deer, and a large one too, was making for the shore. Here our adventures began. I signalled Martin, by a desperate "hitch" on the thwart, to run the boat at full speed toward the sound. He did. The light shell shot through the fog, and when in swift career struck the bank, bow on. Martin was tremendous at the paddle, and a little more force would have divided that marsh from side to side; as it was, the thin, lath-like boat was buried a third of her length in the bogs and marsh grass.

With much struggle, and several suppressed but suggestive exclamations from Martin, we extricated the boat from the meadow, and shoved out into deep water. We had heard nothing from the deer since he left the river. Thinking that possibly he might have stopped, after gaining the bank, to look back, as deer often do, I rose slowly in the boat, turned up the jack, and peered anxiously into the fog. The strong reflector bored a lane through the fleecy mass for some fifty feet, perhaps; even at that distance objects mingled grotesquely through the fog. At the extreme end of the opening, I detected a bright, diamond-like spark. What was it? I turned the jack up, and I turned it down. I lowered myself until my eyes looked along the line of the glass, I raised myself on tiptoe. Nothing more could be seen.

"It may be the eye of a deer, and it may be only a drop of water, or a wet leaf," said I to myself. Still it looked gamy. I concluded to launch a bullet at it, anyway. Whispering to Martin to steady the boat, I sank my eye well down into the sights, and, holding for the gleam amid the marsh-grass, fired. The smoke, mingling heavily with the fog, made all murky before me, while the explosion, striking against the hills on either side, started a dozen reverberations, so that we could neither see nor hear what was the result of the shot. After waiting in silence a few moments, hoping to hear the deer "kick," without any such happy result, I told Martin I would go ashore to load, and see what I had shot. He paddled forward, and seizing the tall grass, while he forced the boat in against the bank with his paddle, I clambered up. Being curious to see what had deceived me, I strode off into the marsh some forty feet, and turning up the jack, lo and behold a dead deer lay at my feet! "Martin," shouted I, "here the deer is, dead as a tick!"

"The d—l!" exclaimed the guide from the fog.

"What did you say?" again I shouted.

"I said I didn't believe it," returned Martin, soberly.

"Paddle your canoe up here, then, you old sceptic, and see for yourself," I rejoined, taking the deer by the ear and dragging him to the bank. "Here he is, and a monster too." Martin did as directed.

"Well," exclaimed he, as he unbent his gaunt form from the curve into which two hours of paddling had bent and cramped it, and straightened himself to his full height, until his eyes rested upon the buck,—"well, Mr. Murray, you are the first man I ever saw draw a fine bead in such a night like this, standing in the bow of a Saranac boat, at the twinkle of a deer's eye, and kill. That jack of yours is a big thing, and no mistake." By the time he had finished, the boat had drifted off into the river,—for the current was quite strong at that point,—and I was alone. I was just lifting a cap to the tube of the re-charged barrel, when I felt a movement at my feet, and casting my eyes downward, I saw that the deer was in the act of getting up! The ball, as we afterward discovered, had glanced along the front part of the skull, barely creasing the skin. It had touched the bone slightly, and stunned him so that he dropped; but beyond this it had not hurt him in the least. Quick as thought I put my foot against his shoulder and pushed him over. "Martin," I cried, "this deer aint dead; he's trying to get up? What shall I do?"

"Not dead!" exclaimed he, shouting from the middle of the river through the dense fog.

"No, he isn't dead; far from it. He is mighty lively and getting more and more so," I returned, now having my hands full to keep the deer down. "Come out and help me. What shall I do?"

"Get hold of his hind leg; I'll be with you in a minute," was the answer.

I did as directed. I laid hold of his left hind leg, just above the fetlocks, and sprung to my feet.

Reader, did you ever seize a pig by the hind leg? If so, multiply that pig by ten; for every twitch he gives count six; lash a big lantern to your head; fancy yourself standing alone on a swampy marsh in a dark, foggy night, with a rifle in your left hand, and being twitched among the bogs and in and out of muskrat holes, until your whole system seems on the point of a separation which shall send you in a thousand infinitesmal parts in all directions, like fragments of an exploding buzz wheel, and you have my appearance and feelings as I was jerked about that night amid the mire and marsh grass, as I clung to the leg of that deer.

Now, when I fasten to anything, I always expect to hold on. This was my determination when I put my fingers round that buck's leg. I have a tremendous grip—my father had before me. With his hands at a two-inch auger-hole in the head of a barrel, I have seen him clutch, now with his right, now with his left hand, twenty-two house rats as they came darting out to escape the stick with which I was stirring them up, and dash them dead upon the floor, without getting a single bite; and everybody knows that a rat, in full bolt, comes out of a barrel like a flash of lightning. I fully expected to maintain the family prestige for grip, I did. I stuck to that deer with all my power, arm and will. I felt it to be a sort of personal contest between him and myself.

Nevertheless, I was perfectly willing at any time to let go. I had undertaken the job at the request of another, and was ready to surrender it instantly upon demand. I shouted to Martin to get out of that boat mighty quick if he wanted to take his deer home, for I shouldn't hold on to him much longer. It took me about two minutes to deliver that sentence. It was literally jerked out of me, word by word. Never did I labor under greater embarrassment in expressing myself. In the meanwhile Martin was meeting with difficulty. The bank of the river was steep, and the light cedar shell, with only himself in it, was out of all balance and hard to manage.

It may be that his very strong desire to get on to that meadow where I was holding his deer for him operated to confuse and embarrass his movements! He would propel the boat at full speed toward the bank, then jump for the bow; but his motion forward would release the boat from the mud; when he reached the bow the boat would be half way across the river again. Now Martin is a man of great patience. He is not by any means a profane person. He had always shown great respect for the cloth.

But everybody will see that his position was a very trying one. Three several times, as he afterwards informed me, did he drive that boat into the bank, and three several times, when he got to the bow, that boat was in the middle of the river. At last Martin's patience gave way, and out of the fog came to my ears ejaculations of disgust, and such strong expletives as are found only in choice old English, and howls of rage and disappointment that none but a guide could utter in like circumstances.

But human endurance has a limit. I was fast reaching a condition of mind when family pride and transmitted powers of resolution fail. What did I care for my father's exploit with the rats at the two-inch auger-hole? What did the family grip amount to after all? I was fast losing sight of the connection such vanities sustained to me. I was undergoing a rapid change in many respects—of body as well as mind! When I got hold of that deer's leg I was mentally full of pluck and hope; my hunting coat, of Iris corduroy, was whole and tightly buttoned.

Now, mentally, I was demoralized; every button was gone from the coat, and the right sleeve hung disconnected with the body of the garment. The jack had been jerked from my head, and lay a rod off in the marsh grass. I could hold on no longer. I would make one more effort, one more appeal. I did. "Martin," said I, "aren't you ever going to get out of that boat?"

The heavy thug of the boat against the bank, an explosive and spluttering noise which sounded very much like the word "damn" spoken from between shut teeth, a splash, a scramble, and then I caught sight of the gaunt form of Martin, paddle in hand and hunting knife between his teeth, loping along toward me, through the tall, rank grass. But, alas! it was too late. The auspicious moment had passed. My fingers one by one loosened their hold, and the deer, gathering all his strength with a terrific elevation of his feet, sent me reeling backward, just as Martin, doubled up in a heap, was about to light on his back. He missed the back, but, as good luck would have it, even while the buck was in the air—the deer going up as Martin came down—the fingers of the guide closed with a full and desperate grip upon his tail.

Quick as a flash I recovered myself from the bogs, replaced the jack, which fortunately had not been extinguished, upon my head, and stood an interested spectator of the proceedings. Now everybody knows how wild deer can jump when frightened; and the buck, with Martin fastened to his tail, was thoroughly roused. The first leap straightened the poor fellow out like a lath, but it did not shake him from his hold.

If the reader has ever seen a small boy hanging to the tail-board of a wagon, when the horse was at full speed, he can form a faint idea of Martin's appearance as the deer tore like a whirlwind through the tall grass.

Blinded and bewildered by the light, frenzied with fear, the buck, as deer often will, instead of leaping off, kept racing up and down just within the border of light made by the jack, and occasionally making a bolt directly for it.

My position was unique. I was the sole spectator of a series of gymnastic evolutions truly original. Small as the audience was, the performers were in earnest. Had there been a thousand spectators, the actors could not have laid themselves out with greater energy. No applause could have got another inch of jump out of the buck, or another inch of horizontal position out of Martin. Whenever, at long intervals, his feet did touch the ground, it was only to leave for another and a higher aerial plunge. Now and then the buck would take a short stretch into the fog and darkness, only to reappear with the same inevitable attachment of arms and legs streaming behind. The scene was too ludicrous to be endured in silence.

The desperate expression of Martin's face, as he swung round and jerked about, was enough to make a monk explode with laughter while doing penance. I rested my hands on either knee, and laughed until tears ran down my face. Martin was silent as death, save when the buck, in some extraordinary and desperate leap, twitched a grunt out of him. Between my paroxysms, I exhorted him; it was my time to exhort.

"Martin," I shouted, "hang on; that's your deer. I quit all claim to him. Hang on, I say. Save his tail, anyhow."

Whether Martin appreciated the advice, whether he exactly saw where the "laugh came in," I cannot say, and he could not explain. Still I am led to think that it was to him no trifling affair, but a matter which moved him profoundly.

At last the knife was jerked from his teeth, either because of the violence of exertion or because he had inadvertently loosened his grasp on it. Be this as it may, Martin's mouth was at last opened, and out of it were projected some of the most extraordinary expressions I ever heard. His sentences were singularly detached. Even his words were widely separated, but brought out with great emphasis. He averaged about one word to a jump. If another got partially out, it was suddenly and ruthlessly snapped off in mid utterance. The result of his efforts to express himself reached my ears very much in this shape:

Jump—will—you—be—e—d—d—I've—got—you!—I'll—hold—on—till—your—tail—comes—off!—Jump-p-p—be—D-D-DARNED—I've—got—you-u-u

When the contest would have ended, what would have been the result had it continued, whether the buck or the guide would have come off winner, it is not easy to say. Nor is it necessary to speculate, for the close was speedily reached, and in an unlooked-for manner. The deer had led off some dozen jumps out of the circle of light, and I was beginning to think that he had shaken himself loose from his enemy, when all at once he emerged from the fog with Martin still streaming behind him, and made straight for the river. Never did I see a buck vault higher or project himself farther in successive leaps. The Saranacer was too much put to to articulate a word; only a series of grunts, as he was twitched along, revealed the state of his pent up feelings.

Past me the deer flashed like a feathered shaft, heading directly for the bank.

"Hang on, Martin," I screamed, sobered by the thought that he would save him yet if he could only retain his grip. "Hang to him like death!"

He did. Never did my admiration go out more strongly toward a man than it did toward Martin, as red in the face, and unable to relieve himself by a single expression, he went tearing along at a frightful rate, in full bolt for the river.

Not one man in fifty could have kept his single handed grip, jerked at the close of such a struggle as the Saranacer had passed through, and twitched mercilessly as he was now being through the bog grass over the uneven ground. But the guide's blood was up, and nothing could loosen his clutch. The buck reached the bank, and gathering himself up for a desperate leap, he flung his body into the air. I saw a pair of widely-separated legs swing wildly upward, and the red face of Martin, head downward, and reversed, so as to be turned directly toward me by the summersault he was turning, disappeared like a waning rocket in the fog overhanging the river. Once in the water, the buck was no match for his foe.

I hurried to the edge of the bank. Beneath me, and half across the river, a desperate struggle was going on. Martin had found his voice, and was using it as if to make up for lost time. In a moment a gurgling sound reached my ears, and I knew the deer's head was under water; and shortly, in answer to my hail, the guide appeared, dragging the buck behind him. The deer was drowned and quite dead. Drawing my knife across the still warm throat, we bled him well, and waiting for Martin to rest himself a moment, slid him down into the boat and laid him at full length along the bottom. Taking our places at either end, and, lifting our paddles, we turned our faces campward.

ON Saturday last, the delegate elections of the Radical party took place in Allegheny county, and all the old members were defeated. The anti-Granters swept the board clean. An attempt is now making to cover over the real wound in the party, by declaring that the unpopularity of the "Ring" was the cause of the change. But this is not so. Natural causes produced the convulsion, and like results will be seen in other portions of the State. In Lancaster county daggers are drawn by both wings of the Radical forces, and they will be used when the proper moment arrives. The Press, of this city, is bolstering up Senator Billingfelt, and Senator Fisher is denounced by a section of his political party as unworthy of further confidence or support. The insincerity of General Grant, and his early quarrel with leading Radicals in this State, are beginning to produce fruits, and such as we have chronicled are of them. If the Democrats make good nominations this fall they will sweep the State with a new broom from the Delaware to the Ohio line.—Age.

RADICAL impudence sometimes expresses itself with an unconscious simplicity that is not without a certain charm. The correspondent who keeps writing all the time to the Press, under the title of "Occasional," said last Saturday:

I think we shall carry Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Arkansas.

Georgia is hopelessly gone, unless Congress again intervenes. The Democracy have the advantage in this State, and will hold it if their usurpation is not counteracted.

Take notice: When "we" carry States by the bayonet of the military and a general disfranchisement of the white people, it is all right. When, against all obstacles, the Democracy triumph, it is a "usurpation," and Congress is called upon to "intervene." This is the party that pretended at the last election to want peace, free civil government and the question of suffrage in all the loyal States left to the people of those States!—Age.

AN ordinance has been passed by the Radical Council of Washington imposing a fine of twenty dollars on managers of places of amusement in that city who refuse negroes admission to any part of their houses. This will have the effect of destroying all first-class entertainments in that city. No man will venture his capital in a business which is thus hampered. Ladies will not go to an opera or concert where a negro may be seated by their side, and this cause will turn over all the theatres to a class of persons who cannot carry them successfully through a season. But the Radicals are willing to injure business if they can hold on to the negroes as voters, and the Washington movement "hath that extent, no more."—Age.

A RECENT writer says: "There is many a proud spirited, sensitive woman, who feels herself a beggar, and unless from absolute need, will go without rather than ask her husband for money for her own use." Poor dears; we should like to meet one of this kind.

A ONE armed man was asked by a woman how he came to lose his arm. He promised to tell her if she would not ask another question. She agreed, and he said it was bitten off. As she went away she said she wished she knew what bit it off!

THE HALLOW-EVE MYSTERY.
A LEGEND OF THE BLACK HALL.

CHAPTER I.
THE BERNERS OF THE BURNING HEARTS.

"Their love was like the lava flood
That burns in Etna's breast of flame."

Near the end of a dark autumn day, not many years ago, a young couple, returning from their bridal tour, arrived by steamer at the old city of Norfolk; and, taking a hack, drove directly to the best inn.

The gentleman registered himself and his party as Mr. and Mrs. Lyon Berners, of Black Hall, Virginia, and two servants.

"We shall need a private parlor and chamber communicating for our own use, and a couple of bedrooms for our servants," said Mr. Berners, as he handed his hat and cane to the bowing waiter.

"Certainly, sir. What would you like for tea?" asked the landlord.

"Oh, anything you please, so that it is nice and neatly served," said Mr. Berners, with a slightly impatient wave of his hand as if he would have been rid of his obsequious host.

"Ah-ha! anything I please! It is easy to see what ails him. He lives upon love just now; but he'll care more about his bill of fare a few weeks hence," chuckled the landlord, as he left the public parlor to execute his guest's orders.

The bridegroom was no sooner left alone with his bride than he seated her in the easiest arm-chair, and began with affectionate zeal to untie her bonnet strings and unclasp her mantle.

"You make my maid a useless appendage, dear Lyon," said the little lady, smiling up in his eyes. "You love me so much, dear Lyon! You love me so much! Yet not too much either! for oh! if you should ever cease to love me, or even if you were ever to love me less, I—I—dare not think what I should do!" she muttered in a long, deep, shuddering tone.

"Why, Sybil, my wife—you beautiful mad creature! You are a true daughter of your house! A Berners of the burning heart! A Berners of the boiling blood! A Berners of whom it has been said, that it is almost as fatal to be loved as to be hated by—"

Suddenly in the midst of their converse they heard the sound of weeping—low, deep, heart-broken weeping.

Both paused, looked at each other, and listened.

The sound seemed to come from a room on the opposite side of the passage to their own apartment.

"What is that?" inquired Sybil, looking up to her husband's face.

"It seems to be some woman in distress," answered Lyon.

"Oh! see what it is, dear, will you?" entreated Sybil.

She was herself so happy, that it was really dreadful to be reminded just then that sorrow should exist in this world at all.

But if she could have foreseen the woe that was to come to herself, to her husband, and to the object of her sympathy, she would have held Lyon back, as with the grip of fate, from the mission on which she now sent him.

For the weeper was a beautiful woman—a deserted wife—named Rosa Blondelle, who, although but a few days landed from the vessel which had brought her from Europe, had been robbed of her jewels and money by her husband, and then left to her fate in that Norfolk hotel.

Sybil was deeply moved by this lady's story, and insisted on taking Mrs. Blondelle home with her to Black Hall, and Mr. Berners gave his assent to her wishes.

But before they got ready to set out on their journey, Sybil bitterly repented of the arrangement. Mrs. Blondelle was so enchantingly lovely, that Mr. Berners at once began to yield to her charms; and Sybil, for the first time, saw him pay the homage of admiration to other beauty than her own.

This kindled the fire of jealousy in her heart, and by the time they reached Black Hall, those fires had become fanned into an inextinguishable flame.

And no Berners had ever been known to forgive an object of jealousy.

Black Hall, the abode of Mr. and Mrs. Berners, was a palatial old Virginia mansion, situated in the heart of Black Valley, a few miles from Blackville, the county town. It had been in Mrs. Berners' family for generations, and was renowned for the scenes of gayety and hospitality which had transpired beneath its roof.

Mrs. Berners, the last of her race, to give vent to the emotions of her restless, jealous heart, resolved to re-inaugurate the festivities of the olden time, and for that purpose announced a mask ball for the ensuing All-Hallow Eve, and at once set about getting all things in readiness.

One day while she was absent at Blackville, making purchases, Lyon and Rosa became so absorbed in one another, as to become oblivious of the entry of Mrs. Winterose, the old housekeeper, who found them sitting closely side by side, her hand clasped in his. On Sybil's return, the old housekeeper described this scene to her, with many exaggerations. The revelation seemed to freeze Sybil into ice.

"Oh, my heart! my heart!" she moaned, turning deathly pale. And then, after a long silence, she bitterly added, "Deceived! Betrayed! Scorned! Laughed at! Well, well!" she continued, nodding grimly; "well, well, since deceit is the fashion of the day, I too will be in the fashion; I too will wear a mask of smiles! But behind that mask, I will watch!—Oh, how I will watch! Not at my fancy-ball alone will I play a part, but before it, and perhaps, after it! None shall ever know how I watch, what I see, until I descend with the fell swoop of the eagle. And henceforth let me remember that I am a daughter of the house of Berners, who never failed a friend or spared a foe. And oh, let the spirit of my fathers support me, for I must ENDURE until I can AVENGE!"

And oh! could those triflers with sacred love—those wanderers on the brink of a fearful abyss—have seen the look of her face then, they would have fled from each other for ever, rather than to have dared the desperation of her roused soul.

But they saw nothing, knew nothing, suspected nothing!

And thus all the three drifted towards the awful brink of ruin.

CHAPTER II.
THE FIRST FATAL HALLOW EVE.

It was All-Hallow Eve, a night long anticipated with delight by the whole neighborhood, and much longer still remembered with horror by the whole country.

It was the occasion of Sybil Berners' mask ball; and Black Hall, the Black Valley, and the town of Blackville were all in a state of unprecedented excitement; for this was the first entertainment of the kind that had ever been given in the locality, and the gentry of three contiguous counties had been invited to assist at it.

The throng at Black Hall was great, and the characters assumed by the maskers were various and well sustained.

But far the most beautiful, for the most terrible figure in the pageantry of the evening, was that of Sybil Berners! She had chosen for her character the unprecedented part of the impersonation of the Spirit of Fire. It suited well with her whole nature. Her costume was but the outward sign of the inward fervor.

Sybil had confided the secret of her costume to no one but her husband, who was himself attired as "Harold the Saxon," while Mrs. Blondelle assumed the character of "Edith the Fair."

Sybil had not been long in the room before the coquetting of her husband and Mrs. Blondelle drove her nearly to distraction. Observing that whenever she came near them, they were on their guard, Sybil exchanged disguises with one of her guests and intimate friends, Beatrix Pendleton, and was thus enabled to watch her husband and his companion without the least restraint.

Sybil observed that a masker, representing Death, whom nobody seemed to know, watched Mrs. Blondelle as closely as she did herself; and she subsequently had occasion to remember and shudder at that fact.

Seeing the watched couple seat themselves on a small sofa in one corner of the room, she glided to an ottoman near them, in time to hear Mrs. Blondelle say:

"No, Lyon, your wife is not my friend—she is my deadly enemy. She is fiercely jealous of your affection for me, though it is the only happiness of my unhappy life. And she will make you throw me off yet."

"Never! no one, not even my wife, shall ever do that. I swear it by all my hopes of—"

Sybil glided away. She could bear no more.

Supper-time drawing near, when all the guests would have to unmask, Sybil and Beatrix re-exchanged costumes, and went down to the drawing-room together just as the last quadrille was completed, and the company began to march to the supper-room.

As each couple passed into the supper-room, they took off their masks, and handed them to attendants, placed for that purpose to the right and left of the door. Thus, when the company filled the room, every face was shown, but "Death" was nowhere to be seen.

At last the party broke up. Only a few of the guests remained all night. These were shown to their rooms, and the others having gone, as fate would have it, Mrs. Blondelle went into the little reception parlor to meet Mr. Berners, who assured her that thenceforth he could never extend to her more than a brother's affection.

"Then give me a brother's kiss," she sighed. "That is not much to ask, and I have no one to kiss me now. So give me a brother's kiss, and let me go," she pleaded, plaintively.

He hesitated for a moment, and then bending over her, he said:

"It is the first, and for your own sake it must be the last, Rosa!" and he pressed his lips to hers.

It was the last as well as the first; for at the meeting of their lips they were stricken asunder as by the fall of a thunderbolt!

And Sybil, blazing with wrath, like a spirit from the Lake of Fire, stood between them!

She looked not human—with her whole face and form heaving, palpitating, flashing forth the lightnings of anger!

"SYBIL!" exclaimed her husband, thunderstruck, appalled.

She waved her hand towards him, as if to implore or command silence.

"I have nothing to say to you," she muttered, in low and husky tones, as if ashes were in her throat. "But to you!" she said, and her voice rose clear and strong as she turned and stretched out her arm towards Rosa, who was leaning in affright against the wall—"TO YOU, traitress, who has come between the true husband and his wife—in the morning you must leave the house you have desecrated! for if you do not, or ever I find your false face here again, I will tread down and crush out your life with less remorse than ever I set heel upon a spider! I will, as I am a Berners! And now, begone, and never let me see your form again!"

Rosa Blondelle, who had stood spell-bound by the terrible gaze and overwhelming words of Sybil, the wronged wife, now suddenly threw up her hands, and with a low cry fled from the room.

And Sybil dropped her arm and her voice at the same instant, and stood dumb, motionless.

And now, at length, Lyon Berners spoke again.

"Sybil!" he said, "this house is yours! You must do as you please. But this I tell you: that in the same hour which sees that poor and friendless young creature driven from the shelter of this roof, I leave it too, and leave it for ever!"

If Lyon Berners really meant this, or thought to bring his fiery-hearted wife to terms by the threat, he was mistaken in her character.

"Oh, go!" she answered, bitterly—"go as soon as you like, Lyon Berners. Good-night, and—good-bye," she said, and with a wave of her hand she passed from the room.

He was mad to have spoken as he did; madder still to let her leave him so! how mad, he was soon to learn.

Lyon Berners remained walking up and down the room some time longer. The lights were all out, and the servants gone to bed. Yet still he continued to pace up and down the parlor floor, until suddenly piercing shrieks smote his ear.

In great terror he started forward and instinctively rushed towards Rosa's room, when the door was suddenly thrown open by Rosa herself, pale, bleeding from a wound in her breast.

"Great Heaven! What is this?" he cried, as, aghast with amazement and sorrow, he supported the ghastly and dying form, and laid it on the sofa, and then sunk on his knees beside it.

"Who, who has done this?" he wildly demanded, as, almost paralized with horror, he knelt beside her, and tried to stanch the gushing wound from which her life-blood was fast welling.

She opened her bloodless lips, now paling in death, and gasped forth the words:

"She—Sybil—your wife. I told you she would do it, and she has done it. Sybil Berners has murdered me," she whispered. Then raising herself with a last dying effort, she cried aloud, "Hear, all! Sybil Berners has murdered me." And with this charge upon her lips, she fell back DEAD.

Even in that supreme moment Lyon Berners' first thought, almost his only thought, was for his wife. He looked up to see who was there—who had heard this awful, this fatal charge.

All were there! guests and servants, men and women, drawn there by the dreadful shrieks. All had heard the horrible accusation.

And all stood panic-stricken, as they shrank away from one who stood in their midst.

It was she, Sybil, the accused, whose very aspect accused her more loudly than the dying woman had done; for she stood there, still in her fiery masquerade dress, her face pallid, her eyes blazing, her wild black hair loose and streaming, her crimsoned hand raised and grasping a blood-stained dagger.

"O, wretched woman! most wretched woman! What is this that you have done?" groaned Lyon Berners in unutterable agony—agony not for the dead beauty before him, but for the living wife, whom he felt that he had driven to this deed of desperation.

"Lyon Berners, do YOU believe me guilty?" she asked.

He looked up, and their eyes met. If he had really believed her guilty, he did not now. He answered briefly and firmly:

"No, Sybil! Heaven knows that I do not; but explain this horrible business—if you can!"

"The explanation is this," she said, emphatically. And then her voice arose, clear, firm, and distinct, as she continued:

"I was in my chamber, which is immediately above that occupied by Mrs. Blondelle. My chamber is approached by two ways, first by the front passage and stairs and secondly by a narrow staircase running up from Mrs. Blondelle's room. I do not know how long I had sat there, when I heard a piercing shriek from some one in the room below. Instinctively I rushed down the communicating stairs and into Mrs. Blondelle's room, and up to her bed, where I saw by the light of the taper she was lying. Her eyes were closed, and I thought at first that she had fainted from some fright until, almost at the same instant, I saw this dagger—" here Sybil stooped and picked up the dagger that she had dropped a few minutes before—"driven to its haft in her chest. I drew it out. Instantly the blood from the opened wound spirted up, covering my hand and sleeve with the accusing stains you see! With the flowing of the blood her eyes flew wildly open! She gazed affrightedly at me for an instant, and then with the last effort of her life, for which terror lent her strength, she started up and fled shrieking to this room, I, still holding the dagger that I had drawn from her bosom, followed her here. And—you know the rest," said Sybil; and overcome with excitement, she sank upon the nearest chair to rest.

Her story had evidently made a very great impression upon the company present. But Lyon Berners suddenly exclaimed:

"Good Heavens! that lady's mistaken charge has put us all off the scent, and allowed the murderer to escape! But it may not yet be too late! Some clue may be left in her room by which we may trace the criminal! Come, neighbors, and let us search the premises."

And Lyon Berners, leaving the shuddering women of the party in the room with Sybil and the dead, and followed by all the men, went to search the house and grounds for traces of the assassin.

But the search proved fruitless. No trace of an intruder could be found, nor was there any evidence of robbery. Furthermore, all the windows were found fastened on the inside. There had been no way of entering the murdered woman's room except by the stairway leading from Sybil's chamber.

Captain Pendleton, an old lover of Sybil's, and a brother of Beatrix, saw that there was no safety except in instant flight. He whispered Lyon to take Sybil to her room, and then to meet him on the back piazza. This was done, and then the captain unfolded his already matured plans. Lyon adopted them at once; and under the skillful management of Captain Pendleton and Beatrix, they got out of the house unseen, and were soon on their way towards a place of concealment, known as the Haunted Chapel, where new and unexpected horrors awaited them.

CHAPTER III.

THE HAUNTED CHAPEL.

The Haunted Chapel to which Mr. and Mrs. Berners were going was in a dark and lonely gorge on the other side of the mountain.

They arrived safely at the old ruin, where in the course of the day they were joined by Mrs. Berners' faithful servant Joe, whose affection for his mistress had led him to play the spy, and find out where she was going, and secretly follow her with provisions and means for making her somewhat comfortable.

The fugitives felt so depressed that even the cheerful supper supplied by Joe could not relieve them of the overshadowing gloom which had settled on their hearts. A strange drowsiness soon oppressed them, and they sank into a deep sleep, as though they had been drugged with some powerful narcotic. Mr. Berners was aroused before daylight by Joe, who instantly drew him outside the chapel in alarm.

Sybil, left alone in the Haunted Chapel, continued to sleep soundly. How long she had slept she never could tell, when she was suddenly and fearfully aroused.

She felt hands at work about her person. They were creeping under her shoulders and under her limbs; they were lifting her from her mattress. Her eyes flared open in wild affright, and she saw two black shrouded forms, the one at her head the other at her feet.

She tried to cry out in her agony of terror; but her voice died away in her bosom, and all her powers seemed palsied. They raised her up, and bore her on—great heaven! whither?

To the open door of the vault under the chapel, from whose haunted depths a spectral light gleamed!

They bore her down the dreadful steps, and laid her on the deadly floor! The iron door clanged loudly to, resounding through the dismal arches.

"We have her now!" muttered a hoarse voice. A hollow laugh responded.

And Sybil swooned with horror!

When Sybil recovered from her death-like swoon, she found herself in a spacious cavern of such exceeding beauty and splendor, that for an instant she lost sight of her terrors in her astonishment and admiration, and then her eyes settled upon a figure who seemed the sole occupant of the place.

This was a young girl, who, with her red cloak thrown mat-like on the moss, was seated upon it cross-legged in the Turkish fashion. Her elfin face, her malign eyes, her wild, black hair and picturesque costume, were all so in keeping with the aspect of the place, that one might have deemed her the spirit of the cavern.

The two women looked at each other in silence for perhaps half a minute; and then Sybil spoke:

"What place is this? Who are you? Why am I brought hither?"

"One question at a time," answered the girl. "'What place this is' concerns you little; I am a gipsy, and my name is Gentiliska; 'why you are brought here,' ah! that concerns you very much! It concerns your liberty, and perhaps your life."

"I do not believe it! You have had me torn away from my husband! Where is he now?" haughtily demanded Mrs. Berners.

"He is likely in the hands of the constables, who are by this time in possession of the Haunted Chapel. But fear nothing! Him they will release again, for they have no right to detain him; but you they would have kept, if they had caught you. The constables were coming there for us, but they would have found you had we not brought you away with us. That was my doing. I made your removal the condition of my silence."

"But when will you communicate with my husband, to relieve his dreadful suspense?"

"As soon as it shall be safe to do so. Our first care must be our own safety, but our second will be yours."

Sybil said no more at the moment; but sat looking at the speaker, and thinking of all that had befallen her in the Haunted Chapel.

CHAPTER IV.

THE ROBBER CHIEFTAIN.

He was the mildest mannered man
That ever scuttled ship, or cut a throat.

Sybil had passed the day in the robbers' den with her strange companion, who astonished her by stating that the captain of the band had been present at her masquerade. Late in the afternoon, dinner was announced, at which several of the robbers appeared, with Moloch, a gigantic ruffian, at their head. Moloch was the lieutenant of the band, and in the absence of the captain, ruled with brutal sway. Becoming inflamed with wine, he took a seat by the side of Sybil, threw his arm about her, and attempted to imprint a kiss upon her lips.

Sybil struggled in terror, and the gipsy girl cried out:

"Men! why don't you interfere? He is rude to the lady!"

"We never meddle between other men and their sweethearts. Do we, mates?" called out one.

"No, no, no!" answered the others.

"Oh, if Satan were here!" cried the girl, in despair.

"SATAN IS HERE!" responded a voice close by.

And the robber captain stood among them as if he had risen from the earth.

Moloch dropped Sybil, and cowered in the most abject manner.

Sybil looked up, and turned cold from head to foot; for in the handsome, stately, graceful form of the brigand chief, she recognized the finished gentleman who, in the character of "Death," had danced with her at her own mask ball, and—the probable murderer of Rosa Blondelle.

While the walls of the cavern seemed whirling around Sybil, the robber captain calmly came up to her, lifted his hat, and said:

"Spirit of Fire, I am happy to welcome you to your own appropriate dwelling place;" and then, without expecting an answer, he turned to Moloch, and said in his smoothest tones:

"Be so good as to give me this seat, sir."

But Sybil saw that the giant turned pale and trembled like the fable mountain in labor, as he left the seat by her side, and slunk into another at some distance.

The wine passed freely at the robbers' table, and the men grew merrier, wild, more uproarious. Sybil became very much alarmed; and not so much by the noisy orgies of these rude revellers, as by the dreadful gaze of Moloch fixed upon her from the opposite end of the table where he sat, and the offensive language of Satan's eyes whenever they turned towards her.

At length, unable to bear the trial longer, she arose from her seat, and courtesying to these brigands as she would have done to any set of gentlemen of whom she was taking leave, Sybil left the cavern, followed by Gentiliska, the gipsy girl.

"I must take you to another grotto. You cannot occupy mine to-night," said the girl, with evident reluctance.

"But, oh! why, why may I not stay with you? I am afraid to sleep alone in this terrible place!" pleaded Sybil.

"I have a reason, but I cannot tell it to you now. Yes, I will, too! I will tell you at all risks! Then it is this: My chamber is not safe for you! I myself am not strong enough to protect you! You might be carried off forcibly from my side! I must hide you where no devil may find you to-night!" whispered the girl.

"Oh, do not leave me here alone!" pleaded Sybil. "If I must stay, stay with me! I do not fear death; but oh! I fear these men! Do not leave me!"

"I must, for your own safety. They must not miss me, or their suspicions will be aroused."

Then pointing to a bed of moss, and recommending her guest to lie down and seek repose, the gipsy girl glided away through the labyrinth of caves and was lost to sight and hearing.

Sybil's first impulse was to start up and run after her hostess, but she restrained herself, and sank half fainting upon the heap of moss.

There was but a faint sparkling of light in the cave, coming from a crevice in the roof through which the moonlight entered.

"Seek repose," had been the advice of Gentiliska.

Sybil dared not seek it if she could, and could not have found it if she had. Hour after hour passed in trance-like stillness and silence, when at length she fancied she heard a creeping, stealthy step approaching. Nearly frozen with terror, she listened and watched more intently than ever. Alone, helpless, in darkness and solitude, what horrid fate must she meet? The creeping, cautious footstep drew nearer, nearer!

Oh, Heaven! It was no fancy! The entrance of the cavern was more deeply darkened for one moment, and then the huge form of Moloch stood within the cavern and nearly filled it up.

Paralyzed with horror, Sybil could neither move nor cry out—not even when the monster approached her, and put his profane hand upon her face. The above is all of this story that will be published in our columns. The continuation of it from where it leaves off here can be found only in the New York Ledger, which is for sale at all the bookstores and news depots. Ask for the number dated June 26, and in it you will find the continuation of this beautiful tale. The Ledger has the best stories of any paper in the world; and Henry Ward Beecher, James Parton and Fanny Fern have articles in every number.

FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1869.

BURLINGAME said in Paris: "The Americans are all the equals of their President." Do Americans deserve this?

THE Radicals in Mississippi are going to pieces. A call for a Conservative Republican Convention, to be held June 23, has been issued.

THE Radicals of Philadelphia made their nominations for county officers last week. The corrupt "ring" ruled the day, and the honest Republicans are disgusted.

NINE NEGROES elected to office in Washington!—"Republican Victory!" shouts the Star & Sentinel. White men of Adams county, what think you of such a "victory?"

THE gentleman fortunate enough to receive a free pass over the Pacific Railway is informed for his encouragement that it only costs $10 a day for sleeping and eating accommodations on the route.

THOSE who seek to destroy the Constitution of Pennsylvania by invoking the aid of the negroes of the South, are not the friends of equal suffrage, but they are the enemies of free government.

A COLORED revenue assessor, recently appointed in Georgia, has been arrested for felony.—Ledger.

What has that got to do with it? Is not a negro, even if he is a thief, better than an honest white man, according to the new doctrine?

SHOULD the present military force on the frontier be inadequate to promptly quell the existing difficulties with the Indians, authority will be conferred upon General Schofield to raise volunteers for this purpose, and secure peace and tranquility to the border.

THE Radical party is split in twain now in seven Southern States, to wit: Virginia, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Arkansas, and in two other States, South Carolina and Georgia, the head carpet-baggers and negroes are snarling like cats and dogs.

WHILE thousands of white soldiers have been turned out of office under the Grant administration, and like numbers refused appointments, the Radical press boast that two sons of Douglass, the negro demagogue, have secured easy and lucrative positions in Washington. This is Radical love for the soldiers.

RADICAL rule in Florida has resulted in virtual repudiation of the State debt, the Governor having arranged with the State Treasurer to refuse to pay the interest accruing on a large amount of bonds issued by direction of the Legislature for the purpose of carrying on the State business. Radicalism and repudiation are synonymous terms in more States than Florida.

THOSE who favor the "equality of the races" must, if they can see before their noses, acknowledge that its practical effect would be amalgamation, and ultimately a race of mongrels. The Democratic party is for keeping the white race pure—the Radical leaders oppose this, and say let there be "equality," that there may be a "mingling of races." This is one of the questions now before the people of Pennsylvania. Will they doom their posterity to mongrelism, at the bidding of Radical fanatics and demagogues—office holders and office hunters?

THE "ANCIENT PREJUDICE."—A colored man named James Washington has brought suit in Quincy, Ill., against the St. Louis and Keokuk Packet Company, to recover damages in the sum of $2,000—the officers of one of that company's boats having refused to allow him to sit at the table with white passengers.

That's what things are coming to. If the Radical theory of "justice" be adopted, landlords in Gettysburg may expect just such suits to be brought against them should they undertake to dispute the full "equality" of the negro at their hotel tables. How can Republican landlords longer aid a party, the leaders of which are trying to place them in such a position?

"SETTLING THE NEGRO QUESTION."

A despatch from Washington, under date of June 13, says:

The new city government, so called, is to be inaugurated to-morrow. Bills have been prepared for introduction revoking the licenses of all hotels here that make any distinction in their guests on account of race or color. This is but part of a system of legislation that is to be inaugurated to introduce the colored man on a social level.

When the proclamation of Emancipation was issued, Radical editors and orators shouted Amen! because, they said, it would "settle the negro question." Hardly, however, was the negro declared free, than "suffrage" was demanded for him in the South. And Radical editors and orators again shouted, Let it be done! In order to "settle the negro question." Next came, (in the face of the Chicago platform,) the sweeping amendment to give the negro the ballot in all the States! Again these same Radical editors and orators applaud, that the "negro question may be settled" for the third time!

In Washington city nine negroes have been elected to office, who declare and will enact that "hotels shall make no distinction in their guests on account of race or color." And Radical editors and orators will continue their support of such infamies, just to "settle the negro question!"

The Star is in this rut, and will stay in it so long as the negro is not recognized as the equal of the white man in all things. The only way to settle this disgusting negro business is to "settle" the Radical party—"settle" it beyond all hope of resurrection.

THE negro never had a right to vote in Pennsylvania. Before the adoption of the present Constitution, more than thirty years ago, a negro could here and there be found brazen enough to go to the polls, and, the election officers agreeing, deposit his vote; but upon the question coming before the Supreme Court it was very squarely decided that the negro had no such right.

In the Convention to frame the Constitution we now live under, the negroites made a desperate fight against the introduction of the word "white," but the majority determined that the question of suffrage should then be put beyond cavil or doubt, and voted to confine the elective franchise to the WHITE race alone. The people adopted the Constitution in this shape, and so it stands to-day.

The bad men and mad men who rule the Radical party seem determined that the negro shall be considered the equal of the white man in Pennsylvania, but THE LAW has always been against it, as have THE PEOPLE. These facts the editors of the Star & Sentinel know as well as we do, and their attempt to teach otherwise is anything but creditable to them.

DECEIVED! DECEIVED! Oh, yes, we told you that you would be, if you voted the so-called "Republican" ticket. We told you that it was the intention of the Radical leaders to foist Negro Suffrage upon you without giving you an opportunity to express your opinion in regard to it by a direct vote. You fondly imagined that Grant and the Radicals would live up to the Chicago platform, which pledged them to leave the suffrage question to the people of the "loyal" States, but we told you that platform was a cheat and a snare, intended only to fool you once more into the support of the Radical ticket. You were deceived. But now you are undeceived. Now you see the scheme of the Radical leaders in all its native hideousness. Now you behold the people robbed of the right to control and regulate the elective franchise in their own way, in order that negroes may be made the voting fools of the demagogues who at present rule the country.

Why should you not speak out in rebuke of this infamous chicane? You are the men who are cheated and fooled; you, "Republicans," are the victims of the fraud practiced by the Radical conspirators. You voted the Radical ticket, believing, as the leaders of your party told you, that Negro Suffrage was not in issue last fall, and that the people would be permitted to decide that question for themselves. You, then, were betrayed, and it is for you to say whether you will tamely brook or manfully resent the insult. Do party shackles bind you? Snap them asunder like men! Do demagogues seek to cajole you? Spurn them from your presence. Do pride and prejudice stand betwixt you and the right, have courage to cast them off. You may right the wrong if you will. You can save the country if you but determine to do it. Arise, then, and stand erect in your manhood! Think, resolve and act!—Bedford Gazette.

NEGROES VERSUS EDITORS.—The Louisville Express says: "We don't want to be impertinent in asking questions, but we should like to have some of our Radical cotemporaries of the press tells us who stands the highest in General Grant's estimation—Radical editors or the negroes? We simply ask the question for information, for we see by the list that more negroes than editors have been appointed to office by the President. We should like especially an answer from some of those who did such fine service in securing the election of the General—those who interpreted what little Grant said, and the much he did not say, with overwhelming evidence of loyalty to his party, and generosity to his friends."

MR. CRESWELL AND THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.—A delegation of the Grand Army of the Republic called on Postmaster General Creswell recently and somewhat brusquely demanded a large share of the offices. Creswell replied that he would grant no favors demanded in such a manner, and besides he thought their organization no longer represented true republicanism.—N. Y. Herald.

THE New York Herald stated the result of the Washington election thus:

The result is that the municipal government of the national capital is in the hands of the negro population of the city—say two-fifths of the estimated total population of one hundred and fifty thousand. In other words, sixty thousand blacks in Washington, with a small detachment of Radical white voters, under the management of a corporal's guard of Radical white politicians, give the law to the ninety thousand whites of the city.

MR. REVERDY JOHNSON denies that he will, or has intended to, submit any published or other sort of vindication to the American people or to any other people. Mr. Johnson only carried out the instructions of Secretary Seward who framed and pressed the treaty recently rejected, than which if we ever get a better the signs deceive—says the World.

From the Frederick Union.

Cheering Signs—The Formation of a Universal White Man's Party Inaugurated.

The signs of the times for the formation of a WHITE MAN'S PARTY throughout the entire length and breadth of our country are cheering and auspicious in the highest degree, when honest and patriotic men of all political parties and religious creeds come together, as they recently did in Illinois, with the determination to form a WHITE MAN'S PARTY for the supremacy of the white race in this country, and, at the same time, "to protest against the action of the Illinois Legislature and of Congress, in seeking to force negro suffrage on the said State and the country, contrary to the known wishes of the great body of the American people." This meeting was largely attended and a series of twenty-two resolutions, expressive of the views and feelings of those present, were unanimously adopted. The object and spirit of the meeting may be inferred from the resolutions which we append, viz:

"Resolved, That the legislator who would seek to give away the elective franchise of the superior white race to the low negro, is unworthy of respect or of social consideration among white men. And the legislator who would knowingly violate our written constitutional law, honestly made to guard these rights, is a dangerous public leader, and only needs the opportunity, to be a Robespierre, a Jean Paul Marat, or a Missouri Rodman."

"Resolved, That the negroes ruling whites among us is such an outrageous injustice that nature abhors it, and it must not be tolerated, only as diseased excresences are safely borne until they can be safely removed with the skillful surgeon's lancet."

"Resolved, The only safety for our Republic is in exclusive white race supremacy, universally enforced in every part of our country, as the cardinal, unalterable doctrine."

This uprising on the part of the people of Illinois in favor of the maintenance of white supremacy, has startled and alarmed the editor of the New York Tribune, who appears to think it a very improper movement, because its friends are not willing to descend to the level of an inferior race and remove the line of demarcation by which God, in his infinite wisdom, has distinguished the two races. He thinks color is a mere nothing—that we should cast aside our prejudices and make the negro, socially and politically, our equal, by descending to his level.

For the life and soul of us we cannot conceive how any white man can favor negro suffrage, unless he be politically corrupt and rotten to the very core. Negro suffrage involves, as we have frequently said before, social and political equality, and how any decent white man can make companions of negroes in his parlor, at his table, at the ballot-box, and in positions of honor and distinction, is beyond our comprehension.—There is a class of men in the country whose fondness for office has become so great that they are willing to resort to any base means to retain and obtain place, and these are the men who would confer suffrage upon the negro with the expectation of having their aspirations satisfied by means of his vote. The honest, respectable and intelligent men of all parties who do not want office and sincerely desire the good of the country, loathe and despise the very name of negro suffrage, and in due time they will, like their brethren in Illinois, make their power and influence felt all over the country. So mote it be. God speed the day.

"KU-KLUXISM" IN LOCK HAVEN.

The Bellefonte Watchman, of Friday last, says:

Early on Monday morning last, one of the "coming men"—a full fledged Radical voter, with a skin as black as a tar-bucket—a "man an brudder"—one of the "wards ob de nashun"—a member "ob de colod troops"—a sweet-scented far-smelling citizen; in short a nigger, in the employ of Mr. David Karkskadden, of Lock Haven, entered the sleeping room of Mr. C's. hired girl, a very respectable white girl, and attempted to commit a rape. The screams of the girl attracted Mr. C. to the room, when the black scamp ran and took shelter behind a heater in the cellar, his enraged employer following him with a revolver, blazing away, but with no effect. From the cellar the nigger got out into the street, when Mr. Karkskadden, taking deliberate aim, fired, hitting the darkey in a place that makes it very painful for him to sit down. These are the facts just as we have learned them, and publish them, in order that our Radical friends may see the urgent necessity for a "congressional plaster" to be applied to that darkey's rump—that they may know that Ku-Kluxism is rampant, not only in the rebellious South, but here, in the "loil" North—that "reconstruction" is needed—that protection to the poor, oppressed, disappointed, shot-at darkey is demanded, and that there is work for Congress, Grant, and the whole Radical party to do, to see that "the coming man" is protected in his right to outrage white females, and do as he pleases generally. Alas, for the Radical tears that will be shed in vain over the bleeding butt of the Lock Haven nigger!

BRUTAL OUTRAGE.—A horrible crime, perpetrated on Sunday evening, the 6th instant, about eight miles below Lexington, Va., has greatly excited that usually quiet community. Miss Susan Hite, a young lady of high respectability, about eighteen years of age, was on her way to church, when a negro, named Jesse Edwards, met her, forced her into the woods, outraged her person, and then murdered the young lady and threw her body into the river. Suspicion fell upon the negro, who was pursued and arrested. He confessed the murder, but insisted that it was in "self-defence," and told where the body could be found. It has been recovered, and the examination before the coroner revealed the full enormity of the crime. The negro now makes full confession, but even without his admission the proof of guilt is conclusive. He has been examined before the mayor and fully committed for trial.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.—Last Sunday night, at about half past 8 o'clock, as Mrs. Charles McLean and sister-in-law were on their way home to Ceresville from church, they were assaulted, on the bridge near the residence of Mr. Peter Kemp, by a negro, with intent to commit a rape, but happily the rascal was frustrated by their vigorous defence and loud cries, which alarmed the negro and caused him to retreat under the cover of darkness before Mr. Kemp's family could come to their assistance.—Frederick Union.

THE Democratic Association of Reading, on Saturday evening, passed resolutions demanding of the forthcoming State Convention the nomination of General Winfield Scott Hancock for Governor of Pennsylvania "whether he will or not."

Dead.—Rev. Washington V. Gotwald, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Lancaster, died in that city, on the evening of the 9th inst.

Local Department.

TOWN, COUNTY AND SURROUNDING COUNTIES.

To Bridge Builders.—The County Commissioners will receive proposals until the 30th instant, for the building of a bridge at Wierman's mill, near Arendtsville.

Closed.—The public will regret to learn that the "McClellan House," in this place, long and favorably known to the travelling public, has been temporarily closed, by reason of the bad health of the proprietor, George W. McClellan, Esq.—Star.

Festival.—Patronize the Festival in Agricultural Hall this evening.—Strawberries, ice cream, cakes, boquets, &c., in abundance, and everything nice. The ladies of the Methodist E. Church have spared no pains or labor in getting it up, and deserve a full house and large receipts.

The Passenger Railway, to the Katalysine Spring, is approaching completion. The laying of the cross-ties and stringers has reached the Railroad Station, in Carlisle street, and the work of putting on the iron has commenced. Dr. Smith seems to be quite certain that the horse cars will run from the Depot to the Spring Hotel by the 25th.

Potato Fever.—An exchange says that a farmer in Brandon, Vt., this spring, sold 35 barrels Early Rose potatoes at $35 to $40 per barrel, five bushels Bresee Prolific, No. 2, at $30 per bushel, one potato of No. 4 Prolific at $30, and two of the No. 6 species at $10 each. Adams county is "some" on growing fine potatoes, but its prices is of no account when compared with Brandon, Vt.

National Monument.—The granite for the Monument in the National Cemetery is arriving, and the work of setting it has been commenced. The blocks are generally heavy, requiring a stout team of eight horses, and frequent rests, to get them from the railroad to the Cemetery. The putting up of the Monument (65 feet high) in so short a time seems a very big job, but Mr. Batterson is confident of accomplishing it. He will work night and day if necessary.

Adams County Agricultural Fair.—The Agricultural Board, at a meeting on Saturday last, fixed upon Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 28th, 29th and 30th of September next, for the holding of the next Fair. The hall and grounds will be open on Monday, the 27th, for the reception of stock and articles for exhibition.

The track having been washed somewhat by the heavy rains, will shortly be put in order, for the practicing of "fast stock."

It is hoped that the people of the county will at once enter upon preparations for the best Exhibition yet had. There will be plenty of material.

Fine Strawberries.—Mr. Robert Sheads, the other day, placed upon our table a box of John Knox (Pittsburg) strawberries, for trial. Our verdict is decidedly favorable. They are as large as the Agriculturist, if not larger, fully as handsome, and richer in flavor than any we have yet tasted. Our strawberry growers should all cultivate the John Knox. No others will sell beside them, when consumers once understand their merits.

—Mr. Joseph Martin, West Middle street, brought to our office on Monday an Agriculturist strawberry which measured 4½ inches in circumference. It was a mammoth in its way. Can anybody beat it?

Independence Day.—We are glad to notice a general disposition here to observe Saturday, the 3d of July, as Independence Day. Our merchants have concluded to close their stores on that day, and we suppose that business men generally will follow suit.

Though in New York the custom in such cases is to observe the day after the anniversary, which would be Monday, many of the journals of that city are in favor of keeping Saturday, the 3d, instead. They argue that if Saturday be kept as a holiday, Sunday will follow as a day of rest, and the new week be entered upon unbroken. The same view is expressed in many other parts of the country, and will doubtless be generally adopted and acted upon.

Ever Green Cemetery.—At the recent election for officers of Ever Green Cemetery, the following gentlemen were chosen: President, J. L. Schick; Managers, George Little, Wm. B. Meals, John Rupp, Dr. J. L. Hill, Alex. Cobean, Josiah Benner, George Spangler.

The financial condition of the association is thus stated: Balance in hands of Treasurer at last settlement, $210 64; received from sale of lots during the year, $385 75; burial permits, $92 50; subscriptions, $10—total $708 89. Amount of debt paid, $50; interest, $54; original stock paid, $11 32; cost of new building for superintendent, $218 08; salary of superintendent, $200; other expenses, $21 60; cash on hand, $153 99—total $708 89.

The Crops.—The growing wheat promises an unprecedentedly large yield in this county. That sown early is now beyond injury from the weevil, and there are hopes that the late sown will escape likewise. The present appearance of the crop indicates an early harvest—fully a week earlier than last year.

Rye also looks well. Grass has gathered up amazingly, and will turn out much better than was expected in the Spring. Corn is backward, but has plenty of time to grow. Oats has greatly improved of late, and promises well.

The fruit crop will be large. The peach trees are generally full, and the same may be said of apple. Nothing extraordinary interfering, we may expect a bountiful year.

Sad Accident.—On Thursday morning, the freight train stopped at Alterton station, 4 miles below Newville, to take a car out of the siding. The rear of the train was uncoupled and the front part started for the lower end of the siding. Mr. W. B. Brandon, [formerly of Adams county,] the proprietor of the station, went out to inform the conductor that the car was not ready to go, and while standing on the disconnected parts of the train, facing the rear portion, the front commenced backing, and knocked Mr. Brandon down, one truck passing over his left ankle, crushing it in a dreadful manner. Mr. B., notwithstanding this fearful wound, succeeded in getting off the track before the next truck reach him. The injured limb was amputated about four inches below the knee, by skillful physicians. At last accounts Mr. Brandon was doing well, and will in all probability recover.—Rep.

The New Hotel—To be Opened on the 25th.—The Hotel at the Katalysine Spring is so nearly completed as to justify the Company in announcing its opening for guests on Friday, the 25th instant.

The Committee on furniture visited Philadelphia, New York and Boston, and purchased a complete out-fit for the house, at a cost of nearly $20,000. The furniture is arriving and is being put in place. It is first-class. Every article of detail has been thought of and secured—no comfort neglected.

The gas for the lighting of the house will be manufactured on the premises. The necessary apparatus has been ordered in New York, and workmen will be here in a day or two to put it up.

The water for general purposes will be brought from the Herbst spring, a short distance down the Run. It is to be forced by a ram through pipes to a tank in the hotel. The work is progressing favorably.

Dr. G. D. Smith is to have charge of the Hotel, and we shall be greatly mistaken if he does not prove just the man for the place. Active, energetic and clear-headed, clever and accommodating, he seems to have every necessary qualification.

The cooks, secured in New York, are already here.

Shrewsbury Camp Meeting.—A meeting of Camp Meeting Committees from the various charges usually attending Shrewsbury Camp Meeting, held under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assembled on Monday evening, at the Caroline street church, for the purpose of selecting a site, &c. Fifteen stations and circuits were represented. Mr. Samuel Hindes was selected as chairman. Three different sites were named—Raymond's ground, (the place where the camp has been held for the past four years,) Towsontown, and the ground belonging to Mr. Freeland, situated about a half mile west of Freeland's station, on the Northern Central Railroad. After some discussion a vote was taken by stations and circuits, resulting in eleven voting for Freeland's, three for Raymond's, and one for Towsontown. The time for holding the camp was fixed for Thursday, the 12th of August. The ground selected is situated about two miles south of Raymond's ground, and is said to be excellently adapted for the purpose for which it has been chosen. The woods are large, containing some seventy acres; the water is abundant, three springs being eligible, and the shade very good. It is designed to have a separate road from the railroad station (Freeland's) to the camp ground, for the use of pedestrians. It is expected the camp will be quite large.—Sun of 9th inst.

Frederick and Penn'a. Line R. R.—The contracts for making the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad were given out on Thursday last, as follows: To Messrs. Gunder & McCabe, from Frederick City to the Western Maryland Railroad, and from thence to the Pennsylvania and Maryland line, to Messrs. Rinehollor & Smith. Ground is to be broken on the first of July, and the road is to be ready for the cars by the first of July, 1870. The bids are very low, and it is thought that the road can be completed for less than $590,000. The Company at once receives $20,000 in coupon bonds, from the city of Frederick.

We may soon expect stirring times, as the work all along the lines will be pushed forward as speedily as possible. The Littlestown Railroad Company will extend their road from Littlestown to the Maryland line, to intersect with the above road, which will strike the State line about two miles from town.—Press.

Tobacco Dealers and Pedlers.—The Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue says that a dealer in tobacco is a person whose business is to sell or offer for sale manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars. A person, therefore, whose business it is to sell, or offer for sale, cigars, is regarded as a dealer in tobacco, and if his annual sales exceed $100 he is liable to a special tax as such. A peddler is a person who travels from place to place selling goods. A person, therefore, who peddles cigars, is not only a dealer in tobacco, but also a peddler, and is consequently liable to the special taxes upon both. A person, however, who is simply the agent of a manufacturer or dealer, and who travels as such, taking with him samples of cigars, which he does not sell, but upon which he solicits orders for his employer, from whom he receives a stipulated salary, is not regarded as a peddler or dealer in tobacco.

Co. Sup't.—The newly-elected County Superintendent, J. H. Wert, has entered upon his duties, and can be found at the Eagle Hotel, in this place. Borough and Township Boards of Directors should bear in mind that, to secure the State appropriation, their reports must be sent to the County Superintendent during the present month.

School Board.—The new School Board organized on Tuesday evening week, by continuing Hiram Warren as President, J. F. McCreary as Secretary, and Dr. H. G. Fahnestock as Treasurer. James McCreary was appointed Collector. Teachers will be elected to-day.

Grain Cradles.—Greencastle manufacture—three sizes on hand. Decidedly the best in use. For sale by R. Sherfy, one and a half miles south of Gettysburg. tf

In Town.—The great Clairvoyant, Madame J., is at the Keystone House.

Farmers, This Way.—Bigham & Co. are the agents for the Champion and the Buckeye Reapers and Mowers, the best machines now in use. Farmers wishing to get a good machine and one that will give entire satisfaction, should not fail to call on Bigham & Co., at their Warehouse, on North Washington street, Gettysburg, Pa. Come one, come all, and see the world renowned machines. tf

Great Surprise.—In passing Arnold's Old Corner, the other day, we were surprised at the change. Norris has "changed his base" to this corner, and is surprising everybody that visits him by his large and cheap lot of Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes. Give him a call. tf

For the Compiler.

MR. EDITOR:—Allow me room for a question: Was it any more "disgraceful" in white soldiers to refuse to march with negroes in the procession on decoration day, than it was in the controller of a white Sunday School to refuse to let his scholars go because there were to be no negroes in the procession? Probably the Star will answer. SOLDIER.

New Cooking Stove.—The attention of Housekeepers is invited to the EXCELSIOR PENN COOK STOVE, which has recently been brought into the market, and bids fair to throw all other Stoves into the shade. This Stove took the first premium at the State Fair held in Harrisburg last fall. Among its peculiar merits are the large Oven and Flues, and general simplicity, not being encumbered with unnecessary appendages, which in many stoves only enhance the cost without being of practical use. For beauty of design, quality of material, and general excellence, it cannot be excelled. The price is lower than any other first-class Cook Stove in market, and yet is warranted to cook and bake equal to the best. The Excelsior Penn Cook can be seen at the Wareroom of Col. C. H. Buehler, on Carlisle street, Gettysburg, who is the Agent for this place. Call and see it. tf

Economize.—If our readers will take a little good advice, suited to these hard times, they will save money. We know a certain Store in this town, where loads of Goods are being received every week from the cities. Why is it? Because they sell so cheap, and constantly have a fresh, clean stock. If you have no money to buy with, take your wool, and exchange it for all you want. You get your goods just as cheap. But, at all events, do not fail to go there when you are in town, and buy there, if you would save money. Duphorn's Store, N. W. cor. Square. tf

Head-Quarters Removed.—Captain Norris has removed his store to Arnold's Corner, next door to the First National Bank, where you will find one of the best and cheapest stocks of Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, and Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, of every description, in the county. He is selling Winter Clothing at greatly reduced prices, to make room for Spring Goods. If you want a bargain, go to Norris' Corner. All kinds of Men's and Boys' Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes, on hand, and as cheap as before the war. Give him a call. tf

A Word to the Wise.—Persons going to House-keeping this spring would do well to call at Col. C. H. Buehler's extensive Ware-room, near the Passenger depot, on Carlisle street, who has on hand a very large assortment of Stoves of the best manufacture, Cooking, Parlor, Office, and Chamber Stoves, for wood or coal; also Hollow Ware, Tin Ware, Japan Ware, Britannia Ware, Bird Cages, and a general assortment of Kitchen utensils, necessary in house-keeping, and at very low prices. tf

The Five Wonders of Gettysburg for all to visit: The Katalysine Spring, Orphans' National Homestead, National Cemetery, Pennsylvania College, and E. H. Minnigh's Cream Soda and Ice Cream Establishment, on Chambersburg Street, adjoining Keystone Hotel.

P. S. Our Cream Soda is delicious. tf

Are Hoop Skirts Worn?—Certainly they are. Ladies know that to be well dressed crinoline is necessary. And they know, too, that the choicest stock to select from is to be found at Duphorn's, N. W. cor. Square. tf

C. O. C. C.—Norris just from the city with the largest and cheapest stock of goods in the county—all kinds of Men's and Boys' wear, Straw Hats of every description, and light and dark colored Fur and Wool Hats, in endless variety and as cheap as before the war; also Summer Clothing of all kinds, and cut in the latest style. Young gents wanting a good cheap Fashionable Suit, and of good material, can save TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. by getting it from Norris, at Arnold's old corner. tf

Lumber.—The attention of Carpenters and Builders is invited to the extensive assortment at the Lumber Yard of Col. C. H. Buehler, on Carlisle st., opposite the Passenger Depot. River and Mountain Pine, Hemlock, Laths, Siding, Joists, Scantling, Shingles, Pickets, Flooring, Posts, &c. &c., furnished in any quantity and at lowest rates. tf

Send for Price Lists.—We have on hand printed Price Lists of most of the leading goods in our line of business, such as Queensware, Groceries, Drugs and Shelf Goods, Sugars, Salt, Oils, &c., which lists we will be pleased to mail to any and all storekeepers who will send us their address.

Wool.—We are requested to inform our readers that Mr. Duphorn wants Wool, for which he will pay the highest price. Store N. W. cor. Square. tf

The Attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE, in another part of this paper. This truly valuable Medicine is recommended by all who use it. Read the certificates. eow

Speer's Port Grape Wine.—This noted and excellent wine—samples of which can be tasted at all our druggists—we believe to be superior in every respect, and in all desirable qualities, medicinal not excepted, to pure and genuine imported Port, worth ten dollars a gallon.

For sale by Druggists. 1t

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisements of Seward, Bently & Cheney, which appear on the outside of our paper alternately each week. They are enterprising Druggists, No. 189 Main St., Buffalo, and doing a big business in the Allsma for the Hair, which has been tried and proven to be the best in use.—Springville Tribune, Nov. 19. 1t

THE WORCESTER RAILROAD.—Captain Robert Irwin, of Baltimore, with his corps of engineers, arrived here to-day, in the new steamer "Maggie," to survey the Worcester railroad. This will be happy news for all our people. It is to be hoped that the commencement of the work upon our road next week will be the beginning of the end shortly to be arrived at. We have no doubt those interested will find in the labors of Captain Irwin's surveyors all that they could desire, and will feel the importance of entrusting to him the construction of the road.—Snow Hill (Md.) Shield.

THE Star says it was a "low, vulgar prejudice" that excluded the little nigs from the procession on decoration day. If so, a goodly number of the readers of that paper have "low and vulgar" notions. But they are of the class who will not consent to exchange their white skins for black.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a colic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents diseases of similar character.

I. I. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored.

"A Word to Horsemen."

Dr. Tobias' celebrated Venitian Horse Liniment has been tested by the first Horsemen in this country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "Trotting Dan," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America. It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Scratches, Bruises, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to the directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Price, in Pint Bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers, and Storekeepers throughout the U. S. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation, CRISTADORO'S EXCELSIOR HAIR DYE, for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone, of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than forty varieties have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that HAS BEEN ANALYZED; and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declares that it is perfectly wholesome.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. Try it.

A Great Remedy

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Dr. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safeguard and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the Pine Tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite.

It strengthens the debilitated system.

It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air-passages of the lungs.

Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation.

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted, with the positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:—

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c., &c.

We are often asked why are not other remedies in the market for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, and other Pulmonary affections equal to Dr. L. Q. C. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial. We answer—

1st. It cures, not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, causing irritation and cough.

2d. Most Throat and Lung Remedies are composed of anodynes, which allay the cough for awhile, but by their constringing effects, the fibres become hardened, and the unhealthy fluids coagulate and are retained in the system, causing disease beyond the control of our most eminent physicians.

3d. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial, with its assistants, are preferable, because they remove the cause of irritation of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assist the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purify the blood, thus scientifically making the cure perfect.

Dr. Wishart has on file at his office hundreds and thousands of Certificates, from Men and Women of unquestionable character who were once hopelessly given up to die, but through the Providence of God were completely restored to health by the Pine Tree Tar Cordial. A Physician in attendance who can be consulted in person or by mail, free of charge. Price of Pine Tree Tar Cordial $1.50 per Bottle, $14 per doz. Sent by Express on receipt of price. Address, L. Q. C. Wishart, M. D., No. 232 North 2d Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Attempt to commit Suicide.—On the 8th of June, 1869, Mr. Wm. Bush, of Stewartstown, York county, (formerly of Chester county,) was married to Catharine Diffendaffer, of the same place, and at six o'clock in the evening of the same day, he left the house and went to the woods, where he tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat. Failing in this, he concluded to return to the house again. When he came near the house, he thought he would slip into the house without being seen, but his wife met him in the yard and asked him what he had been doing. He said that he was to bleed for his country, and when Dr. Free examined him he found a cut across his throat some two or three inches in length. The cut however was only skin deep. The cause of the deed was insanity. The Doctor says that he is laboring under typhoid fever at present.—Gazette.

Large Egg.—Mr. Frederick Dubs, of Highland township, left at our office the other day, a hen egg measuring [illegible] inches one way and 6 inches the other. Hard to beat.

SOME twenty or thirty persons have been murdered, and half as many women and children have been carried off in Western Kansas, during the past two weeks, by Indian guerilla bands.

AMANDA CRAIG, of Cincinnati, has obtained a verdict of $10,000 against E. P. Sprague, of Chicago, for breach of promise of marriage. It pays better to be jilted than to get married.

THERE is a man in Chicago who vowed he would not shave until Douglass was elected President. His beard is now eight feet long.

A NEWBURG, (N. Y.,) servant girl routed a burglar last week with a pail of boiling water.

WM. H. SEWARD was a school teacher in Georgia in 1819.

Maxims for Business Men.

WHEN a business man reaches the point where he thinks that he cannot spare any time to examine sources of financial and commercial information, he may safely conclude that his business is not well managed.

When a business man finds himself in a financial situation so embarrassing that he cannot afford to possess every publication that would throw more light upon his business transactions, he should not delay an hour, but arrange at once with an auctioneer to close out his stock to the highest bidder.

THE NEW YORK MERCANTILE JOURNAL is the best as well as the largest mercantile newspaper published in the United States. Its market reviews and carefully revised list of jobbers' prices, embracing almost every quotable article of merchandise, together with its judicious editorials, fill more than thirty-five columns every week. The subscription price is only $5 00 per year, (less than 10 cents per week, and less than 1½ cents per day.) Parties desiring to possess themselves of this valuable publication, should address THE N. Y. MERCANTILE JOURNAL Co., 350 Pearl street, New York City.

THE subscriber, intending to quit farming, offers his Farm and Mill at private sale—and if not sold until the 15th day of September, it will be offered at public sale on the 16th day of SEPTEMBER, 1869, at 2 o'clock, P. M. The Farm contains 125 ACRES, more or less, and is situate on the public road from Littlestown to Emmitsburg, 3 miles west of Littlestown, and nearly on the route of the Railroad laid out from Littlestown to Frederick—in Mountjoy township, Adams county, Pa. The improvements consist of a large STONE MANSION, with excellent cellar, and a never-failing spring and well with a pump near the dwelling, a large Stone Bank Barn, 80 feet, new Wagon Shed and Corn Cribs, Hog Pen, Blacksmith Shop, Smoke House, Ice House, and all necessary out-buildings; a small Stone House, 2½ stories high, at the mill. The MILL is three stories, lower story stone, upper frame; it is a Chopping Mill, containing one pair choppers and corn crusher—Saw Mill and Bone Mill, the latter having six stampers. The Saw Mill is hard to surpass in cutting qualities, and enjoys a very large custom. The mills are in first-rate repair. There is a Lime Kiln in good condition on the farm, and lime stone within three miles. The land is of good quality, and has nearly all been limed twice, some part oftener. There are about 18 acres in timber, nearly all bottom land—the timber, oak, hickory, and walnut, very thrifty. The farm is laid off in convenient fields, well fenced and watered, the creek passing nearly through the centre. There is a good Apple Orchard, in bearing condition, besides Peaches, Cherries, Pears and Grapes on the farm. A visit and the growing crops will give all the recommendation needed.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium, and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of Premiums, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insured as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends, and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives, or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

VALUABLE PROPERTY,

"OAKRIDGE,"

AT PRIVATE SALE.

THIS very desirable property is now offered at Private Sale, by the undersigned, Executrix of Elizabeth F. Shultz, deceased. It is situated almost entirely within the borough limits of Gettysburg, on the commanding ridge immediately west of the town; and embraces about 5 acres in a BEAUTIFUL GROVE of Stately White Oaks and Hickories. The buildings consist of a spacious, comfortable and attractive BRICK DWELLING HOUSE, two stories, having 12 apartments exclusive of large halls. In the rear a Brick Kitchen, with other necessary buildings—the whole convenient and in good taste. The parlors and chambers are all large and airy, and there are closets throughout the whole house. There is an excellent cellar under the main buildings with a spring in it; a well of first-rate water and two large brick cisterns near. There is also a FRAME COTTAGE on the premises, having 5 rooms, besides basement. This was originally erected for SCHOOL purposes, and is admirably calculated therefor.

7 ACRES AND 132 PERCHES OF LAND,

There is an excellent Frame Barn, with barn floor and manure and root cellars, and other out-buildings, on the tract.

Large Vegetable and Fruit Gardens, and an Orchard, add no little to the value of the property. The fruit embraces apples, peaches, pears, cherries, plums, &c., the trees in full bearing condition; whilst there are grapes of different varieties, raspberries, strawberries, and everything else in the small fruit line. The Flower Garden is a splendid one, filled with the choicest flowers and shrubs. The land throughout is in good condition.

The location of "Oakridge" is one of rare beauty. With the Town, the Cemetery, the Railroad for miles, Culp's Hill and Round Top, for views in front, and Little Springs near on the west, and the South Mountain in the distance, it occupies the very heart of a most picturesque region.

The buildings were erected by Prof. Herman Haupt, for his "Oakridge" Schools, regardless of cost—comfort and convenience only having been considered.

Persons wishing to view the property and learn terms, are requested to call on the Executrix, residing thereon, or on her Attorney, E. B. Buehler, Esq., Gettysburg.

Acting Executrix.

FORNEY'S

Horse & Cattle Powder.

This Preparation has become a great favorite with the people of Adams county—will thoroughly reinvigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines. It is a sure preventive of all diseases. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite, gives a smooth and glossy skin, and transforms the skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It increases the quantity and improves the quality of the milk and makes the butter firm and sweet. In fattening Cattle it gives them an appetite, loosens their hides and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of swine this article acts as a specific; by putting from a quarter to half a paper in a barrel of swill, the diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time a certain preventive for Cholera. Price 10 cents per pound paper; 3 for $1.

MARSHALL'S ELIXIR.

Headache—Dyspepsia—Costiveness.

IF you suffer with Headache try MARSHALL'S ELIXIR, and be convinced that although other remedies have failed to cure you, this will give you instant and permanent relief.

If by over-excitement and fatigue, your nerves have become so weakened that Headache admonishes you something more dangerous may happen, such as

and other alarming nervous affections, then Marshall's Elixir, by giving tone and strength to your system, restores you to perfect health.

Whenever food which should be digested remains in the stomach, causing pain and uneasiness for the want of that principle which should render it easy of digestion, then by using Marshall's Elixir you will supply this deficiency and prevent its recurrence, and so be radically cured of Dyspepsia.

The stomach being thus cleansed from an unhealthy to a healthy condition, costiveness and the other attendant disorders of the bowels are of necessity prevented.

Price of Marshall's Elixir, $1 00 per bottle. For sale by all Druggists. Depot, 1301 Market Street, Phila. M. MARSHALL & Co., Druggists, Proprietors.

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

REAPERS AND MOWERS.

A CAREFUL examination of these machines will convince any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those wanting a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers; REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives the most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

REVOLUTION IN HORSE RAKES!

THE CHAMPION.

Just Patented, May 11th, 1869, by ALBERT TSCHOP AND JACOB HARTMAN, EAST BERLIN, ADAMS CO., PA.

IS pronounced by everybody who has seen it to be the simplest, easiest operated, best and most perfect Rake ever seen. It is self-discharging and hand-discharging. In the one the operator has nothing to do but sit in the seat provided on the Rake and have both hands to manage the horse; and whenever he wishes to discharge the Rake has but to move his right foot against a tripping lever, when the Rake will discharge, fall back, and be in position again for raking. The discharging apparatus is entirely under the control of the operator. Any little boy or woman can rake with this Rake. Those who do not want a self-discharger can easily empty the Rake by hand, by catching a lever right by the side of the seat, bear forward, and discharge the Rake without first removing or altering any part of it.

This Rake, self-discharging as it is, is yet simple, and less liable to get out of its than any other; in fact it is almost impossible to get out of order. It works very easily on the horse, and has no side-draught. The teeth are so hinged to the axle as nearly to balance, making the teeth very easy to raise up and empty, which has not been accomplished heretofore in any other Rake.

It empties by hand easier than any other Rake ever made.

The CHAMPION is now manufactured by the undersigned, in East Berlin, Adams county, Pa., to which all letters must be addressed. All Rakes warranted to give satisfaction.

STATE, COUNTY and Shop Rights for sale.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS' REAPER AND MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain. It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rake ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

Also, THE KELLER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Bamborough Fan Improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel, or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

A WORD TO THE WISE!

HIGHLY IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS!

GENTLEMEN, I have, after long study and a series of experiments, found that the soil of our county requires something quick, active and durable; and hearing of

F. C. RENNER'S

and it having been thoroughly tried by different farmers in the county, and found to surpass all others on all kinds of soil, and being much cheaper, I have purchased the Right for Adams county, and am prepared to FURNISH THE FERTILIZER in any quantity. I will deliver to any town or village in the county, any amount over a ton.

RENNER'S CHEMICAL FERTILIZER cannot be surpassed for its wonderful effects on all kinds of Grain, and at the same time it is one of the cheapest now in use or in market. I manufacture it for sale at $50 per ton without bags, or $55 in bags. This Fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing chemicals that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any ammonia, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.

The Object of the Chemical Fertilizer is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops, and therefore invite the farmers and the public generally to give it a trial on all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.

CLIPPER MOWERS & REAPERS

ARE the only Mowers built which come up to the advanced stage of improvement found in other Agricultural Implements. The light, elastic steel hay fork, steel hoes and shovels have entirely superseded the heavy and clumsy wrought iron ones, which no farmer would now think of using; so, a Mower built of appropriate materials and fine finish, will supersede the present clumsy machines made mostly of wood and cast iron.

Builders of other Mowers have been too much influenced by a desire to lessen their cost and have employed wood and cast iron where wrought and malleable iron ought only to have been used. In the CLIPPER MACHINES iron has been largely substituted for wood, malleable iron for cast iron, and steel in place of malleable or wrought iron.

An examination of the Clippers will convince any one of their superior merits over all others in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work over all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass. Confident of this, we invite those in want of Machines to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere. Send for descriptive circular. Address, THE CLIPPER MOWER and REAPER Co., 12 Cliff Street, New York.

THE BEST.

Tonics have of late years gained rapidly in public estimation, and are far more generally employed by that class physicians than they once were. The reason for this is that it is a generally established fact that wholesome tonics used in moderation daily for years do not lose their virtue, neither do they injure the system. They act in fact like air and exercise, and not as "medicines," which are intended solely for attacks of illness. The BITTER PRINCIPLES, especially those of vegetable origin, all possess the common property of stimulating the appetite, strengthening the nervous system, and of imparting strength. Women generally derive benefit from them even more than men, their system being more liable to debility and exhaustion. We have again and again in our experience seen the good effects of tonics where the eyes had grown dim and the cheeks pale, and the entire frame showed every indication of exhaustion, nervous suffering and debility.

The best established bitters before the American public are beyond question those of Dr. Stoever, and this is equivalent to declaring that they are the best, since among the scores of totally excellent bitters now current, a poor article has no chance of success whatever. The most ignorant person can tell at once by its effects, almost from a single dose, whether any bitters are good or bad. These of Stoever have been sold for thirty years, are composed of sixteen of the safest roots and herbs of a well known tonic virtue, so skilfully selected and compounded with regard to their mutual effects, that it may be doubted whether any more perfect form of this medicine can be made.

Thousands of persons are exposed to or afflicted with fever and ague, bilious ague or other results of malaria. Let them remember that these bitters are admirable in cases, as for diarrhoea and cholera morbus, or any ordinary derangement of the stomach. Try them and be satisfied that they should be in the stores of every family, and the trunk of every traveler.

It is a favorable feature in the advertisement of the proprietors of Dr. Stoever's Tonic Herb Bitters, that no claims are made that they will cure every ill that flesh is heir to. The weakest intellect can hardly be imposed upon when told that this or that remedy will remove every form of disease in every stage, and yet we can not take up the majority of journals without encountering an advertisement declaring that this or that medicine is a nostrum which is a perfect apothecary's shop, and a whole college of physicians in itself, rendering all other cures useless. What is claimed for Dr. Stoever's Bitters is simply that they will act as a good tonic, and are capable of doing as much good as a preparation of bitter principle can. They will not cure incurable diseases, but they will often prevent a certain class of disorders from becoming incurable. The references and certificates issued in their favor are all true and honest, and of these there are hundreds.

From the editorial columns of Forney's Phil'a, "Press."

FROM THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

LANCASTER, July 25, 1868.

KRYDER & Co.—Gentlemen: In reply to yours of the 22d inst., I would say that I have used Dr. Stoever's Tonic Herb Bitters extensively in my practice during several years past. I do not hesitate to say that I have found it to possess remarkable efficacy in cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Nervous Energy, as well as Fever and Ague, Diarrhoea, Headache and other diseases proceeding from a disordered stomach; and especially has it proved of inestimable value in general debility of the system, when other tonic medicines have failed to produce the desired effect.

Though reluctant to appear as recommending any particular advertised medicine, a sense of duty to the public and the medical faculty will not allow me to withhold my testimony to the merits of the Bitters in question.

Yours, respectfully,

J. T. BAKER, M. D.

Terrible Explosion at Mt. Holly.—The Carlisle Volunteer, of Thursday, says: On Saturday morning last, between twelve and one o'clock, the people of Mt. Holly and the surrounding country were aroused, and their houses shaken beneath them, by a shock as of an earthquake, and a deafening report which reverberated among the spurs of the South Mountain for some seconds. It was soon known to be caused by the explosion of one of the steam boilers of the paper mill belonging to the estate of the late Wm. B. Mullin, and now in charge of Foster Mullin.

It seems that two men, William Meyer and his son, were left in charge of the engine during the latter part of the night. Unknown to them, the stopcock in the pipe, which conveys the steam from the engine boiler to the rotary rag boiler, was turned off, permitting no steam to pass. Examining the steam guage of the rag boiler, and seeing that it indicated only about twenty pounds of steam, Mr. Meyer told his son to make up the fire, as the steam was going down. He again looked at the steam guage of the rotary boiler, and seeing the steam no higher, he again told his son to stir up the fire. Shortly after this they discovered that the engine boiler had on a fearful head of steam, and both became alarmed, and were in the act of opening the safety valve, or providing some outlet for the steam, when the explosion occurred. The end of the boiler was forced out through the building, and carried a distance of two or three hundred yards, beyond the residence of Mrs. Mullin, was entirely demolished, scarcely two pieces remaining together, and the debris being scattered over the surrounding fields for a great distance. The paper making room, which contained valuable machinery, was greatly damaged. The boiler itself was thrown into the air and turned completely around, landing some twenty feet from its old position.

Meyer and his son were both seriously injured, one of them doubtless mortally. The old gentleman was seriously cut about the head and in the abdomen; his face, neck and hands scalded and burned almost to a crisp. Young Meyer had the back part of his skull crushed in, and was also cut, bruised and scalded about his face and body. Strange to say, he remained conscious. Dr. Kieffer was called in, and found a portion of the skull driven into the brain, and the brain oozing out. The main artery at the back of the skull was cut, and from all appearances there was copious internal hemorrhage. He was placed under the influence of chloroform while the operation was being performed; and after it was over, and since, says he suffers no pain, and remains entirely conscious.

The escaping steam and sediment seemed to sweep down every thing in its way, like a tornado. Trees were twisted and torn from the earth, fences demolished, and havoc spread far and wide. The damage to machinery is variously estimated at from $6,000 to $10,000.

AGRICULTURE OF CONTINENTAL EUROPE.

In the recent issue of the Transactions of the Wisconsin State Agricultural Society, the Secretary, Dr. J. W. Hoyt, gives the following conclusions as to the Agriculture of Continental Europe as compared with our own, these conclusions being reached after somewhat extended travel in 1867:

"The agriculture of the most advanced European countries is superior to ours.

1. In the care, labor and expense with which the soil is prepared for the various crops. Their implements of agriculture are, for the most part, really inferior to ours; but they make up for this deficiency in the thoroughness and patience with which they use them; while, in the matter of fertilizing their fields, there is no comparison to be made. We are cultivating virgin soils. They are tilling lands that have borne crops for centuries. And yet their yields are greater than ours—in the case of some countries, twice as large. The secret of which lies in the fact that there scarcely anything is permitted to go to waste that would add to the productiveness of the soil. The farmers convert every available vegetable and animal substance produced on the farm into manure; and, not content with this, the cities are drained and scraped of their offal to add to the supply, and even the country highways, as I have repeatedly noticed in the best portions of England, France, Belgium and Germany, are carefully gleaned of all casual droppings.

2. It is superior in the attention there given to the rotation of crops. A farmer in the better portions of Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, England or Scotland, who should be guilty of the reckless, hap-hazard, no-system practiced by us, would be an anomalous character and summarily punished by starvation.

3. It is preeminently superior in the attention given to forestry and the extraordinary pains taken to make the landscape, and especially the highways, beautiful by the planting of useful and ornamental trees. In Germany it is common to find fruit trees (the apple, the cherry and the pear) lining the public thoroughfares for miles; thus affording a pleasant shade by the way, and at the same time delicious fruits for the enjoyment alike of the proprietor and the wayworn traveler. The time is sure to come, it is even now come, when the agriculturists of this country must give both thought and labor to the production of timber for fuel and mechanical uses, and for the improvement of climate and the production of fruit crops, as well as to the liberal planting of orchards; and the sooner they become impressed with this necessity the better. In the timbered districts there must be a careful saving of a sufficient amount for the future, and in the great prairie districts an early and judicious planting. Let us imitate Germany in this important branch of husbandry.

4. European agriculturists have another advantage over American, in the prohibition of domestic animals from making free ranges of all public highways and such cultivated fields as would otherwise be more or less exposed. On the continent one may travel hundreds of miles without seeing a fence for protection against cattle. Innumerable farms, with a variety of valuable crops, lie side by side, as if so many individual beds in one illimitable garden; all live stock being either housed, or grazed under the care of herdsmen and dogs. To my eye, the effect of such a landscape is incomparably more pleasing, and it is certainly more economical management where timber is scarce.

ROTATION OF CROPS.—There is no principle better settled than the good economy of change of crop, alternating what are considered exhausting, with others that are (comparatively) non-exhausting, and again with such as are considered improvers. What is called the Pennsylvania rotation is only one of many, and is very well suited to the region where it obtains, and wherever stock-raising or feeding or the dairy may be profitably combined with grain-growing.

This rotation puts corn upon an old sod inverted. Nothing could better insure a good crop, without regard to season almost, if well managed otherwise. The crop of oats following is sometimes thought of little value, but pays well generally for the work, and the ploughing for it makes part of the preparation for the wheat, while the stubble admits of early ploughing after harvest. The year's crop of manure gathered from all quarters goes on after this ploughing, and is helped out with others that may be needful. Early seeding is provided for, and there is the best possible preparation of the ground for the seed of wheat and for the clover that is to come after. Thus the culminating crop in the way of exhaustion is met with a full dressing of manure and a certain growth of luxuriant clover, the cheapest fertilizer known to our agriculture and, all things considered, the best. Whether the rotation stop with this crop, or, grass seeds having been sown with the clover seeds, one or two or three seasons of hay and pasturage follow, the ground returns to corn again, with an old sod crowded with decaying roots, and a bed of the best vegetable mould is offered to the coming crop. That this rotation is one of the means designed to make farming profitable no one will question.

COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

THIS long tried and popular Remedy is again called to the attention of the public. As often as the year rolls around, the proprietors annually make their bow to the people, and remind them that amongst the many things required for the health, comfort and sustenance of the family through the long and tedious months of winter, Coe's Cough Balsam should not be forgotten. For years it has been a household medicine—and mothers anxious for the safety of their children, and who suffer from any disease of the throat, chest and lungs, cannot afford to be without it. In addition to the ordinary four ounce so long in the market, we now furnish our mammoth family size bottles, which will, in common, with the other size, be found at all Drug Stores.

FOR CROUP,

The Balsam will be found invaluable, and may always be relied upon in the most extreme cases.

WHOOPING COUGH.

The testimony of all who have used it for this terrible disease during the last ten years is, that it invariably relieves and cures it.

SORE THROAT.

Keep your throat wet with the Balsam—taking little and often—and you will very soon find relief.

HARD COLDS AND COUGHS

Yield at once to a steady use of this great remedy. It will succeed in giving relief where all other remedies have failed.

Soreness of the Throat, Chest and Lungs.

Do not delay procuring and immediately taking Coe's Cough Balsam, when troubled with any of the above named difficulties. They are all premonitory symptoms of Consumption, and if not arrested, will sooner or later sweep you away into the valley of shadows from which none can ever return.

In Consumption

Many a care-worn sufferer has found relief and to-day rejoices that her life has been made easy and prolonged by the use of Coe's Cough Balsam.

In short,

The people know the article, and it needs no comment from us. It is for sale by every Druggist and Dealer in Medicines in the United States.

McGUIRE'S

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER,

For Promoting the Growth, Beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of the oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries. No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivalled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion,

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country, and is warranted free from all poisonous substances. This valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian, and Empress Carlotta, of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing, and refreshing. When thus used it at once relieves headache.

McGUIRE'S

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD!

LONDON

BLOOD PANACEA.

The Great Alterative and Blood Purifier.

IT is the most perfect vegetable compound of alteratives, tonics, diuretics and diaphoretics, making it the most effective, invigorating, renovating and blood cleansing cordial known to the world.

For the cure of Scrofula or King's Evil, Cutaneous Diseases, Erysipelas, Boils, Pimples and Blotches on the Face, Sore Eyes, Scald Head, Tetter Affections, Old and Stubborn Ulcers, Rheumatic Disorders, Yellow Jaundice, Salt Rheum, White Swellings, Mercurial Diseases, General Debility, Palpitation and Fluttering at the Heart, Consumption, Asthma, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Pains in the Back, Dropsy, Female Complaints, &c. To the broken down female it gives life and energy by restoring the lost powers of nature, when health again succeeds the mute form and pallid check of the sufferer.

Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human system. Persons all weakness and lassitude, by using the PANACEA, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence.

Ladies who have pale complexions and are dark about the eyes, blotches and pimples on the face, rough skin or freckles, and are "out of spirits," should use a bottle or two of LONDON BLOOD PANACEA. It will cleanse your blood, remove the freckles and blotches, and give you animation, sparkling eyes, fine spirits and a beautiful complexion. Try it.

PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

BENDERSVILLE FOUNDRY.

THE undersigned, having purchased the BENDERSVILLE FOUNDRY, would inform its old patrons and the public generally, that he will continue the business, and push it fully up to the demands of the times. He will have good materials and good workmen—and always on ough of both to fill every order promptly and satisfactorily. He manufactures of the very best kind, and not to be beat. The celebrated that has become such a favorite among the farmers of Adams and adjoining counties, made in the most reliable manner. He is determined that the plough shall not lose in reputation whilst its manufacture is in his hands—and he will see to it that a sufficient supply be kept on hand, so that all disappointments may hereafter be avoided. Six different patterns of ploughs made at this establishment.

THRESHING MACHINES,

Also, TEN-PLATE, PARLOR and COOK STOVES—all well-tested and popular—among the very best and cheapest in the market.

REPAIRING done in the most expeditious and satisfactory manner. Everything at the lowest living rates. A share of patronage is solicited, and every effort will be made to deserve it.

A SEAVRNT FOR ALL.

Roth's Improvement for Opening, Closing and Latching Gates.

MAY be attached to any gate and operated from buggy, team or saddle, by one hand, in any desired direction from the gate—opened and closed from one point, at any distance from the gate. This improvement is simple and cheap, yet perfect and strong; will not be disarranged by the sagging of the gate, nor by the frost raising the posts; may be made at a country blacksmith's, and easily attached to a gate. The undersigned, having the Right for Adams county, will sell Township and Farm Rights of this improvement.

Also, ROTH & SHANE'S AMERICAN LEVER GATE—which will be found valuable and convenient to all who have gates to drive through—as they remain by their team, open, close and latch a gate, without the necessity of getting in the wet or mud.

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER.

SCHEETZ'S

CELEBRATED

BITTER CORDIAL.

THIS medical preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many worthless compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed of various herbs, gathered from the great storehouse of nature, and selected with the utmost care. It is not recommended as a "CURE ALL," but by its direct and salutary influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and cure for many of the diseases to which those organs are subject. It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, BOWEL COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, FAINTINGS, SICK HEADACHE, &c. For CHILLS and FEVERS of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes.

KISSINGER & SHIREMAN,

No. 2 WEST MARKET STREET, YORK, PA.,

AGENTS AND DEALERS IN PIANOS, CABINET ORGANS, MELODEONS AND ALL KINDS OF MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, respectfully inform the public that they are prepared to furnish Pianos of the following manufacture or of any other make that may be preferred:

Albright, Reikes & Schmidt, Chickering & Son, Bradbury, Knabe & Son, Gale & Son,

ESTEY'S CELEBRATED COTTAGE, HARMONIC AND BOUDOIR ORGANS AND MELODEONS.

These Instruments stand unrivalled by anything found in this country or in Europe, as is admitted by all impartial judges. The most eminent Pipe Organ Builders and Performers, the last to discover excellence in reed Tone, pronounced them vastly superior to all others for exceedingly quick articulation and round Tone, the essential feature in instruments of this class. We invite the severest scrutiny and criticism of all.

PATENT VOX HUMANA TREMOLO.

This late and most wonderful invention (so acknowledged by all leading artists) will be found only in the Estey Instruments. In attempting to describe the effect of this stop, we are at loss for language. Its beauties cannot be written, but must be heard to be appreciated. By this stop an ordinary performer can produce an effect which requires a life time of practice for an artist upon a violin. It entirely changes the reed Tone, giving the sympathetic sweetness of the human voice, making it so melodious and pure that it never fails to enchant the listener.

THE HARMONIC ORGAN

for Churches, Public Halls and Parlors has a powerful sub-Bass with independent reeds, Harmonic attachment and Vox Humana Tremolo, and is believed to be the most powerful reed organ made, being nearly equal to a Pipe Organ of three times the cost.

All Instruments warranted for five years.

BRASS BANDS supplied with Instruments and music at reasonable terms.

A liberal discount allowed for Churches and Sabbath Schools.

Instructions given both in Vocal and Instrumental Music, at our rooms, and at pupils' homes, either to individuals or classes, on reasonable terms.

MORO PHILLIPS'

GENUINE IMPROVED

SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

STANDARD GUARANTEED.

For Sale at Manufacturers' Depots,

No. 27 North Front St., Philadelphia,

AND

No. 95 South St., Baltimore,

And by Dealers in general throughout the Country.

THE SOMBRERO GUANO of which MORO PHILLIPS' PHOSPHATE is, and always has been manufactured, (and of which he has sole control for the United States,) contains fifty per cent. more Bone Phosphate than Raw Bone, therefore it is more durable.

A large percentage is Soluble, and will immediately yield its nourishment.

The Ammonia it contains is pure and ready to yield its value—not animal matter, capable of yielding its ammonia after decomposition in the soil.

Nothing is spared in its manufacture to render it the most valuable Super-Phosphate and Crop Producer in the market.

Eight years' experience has proved to the farmer that it is durable and can always be relied on as uniform in quality; and the numerous unsolicited testimonials continually received of its use in competition with other Fertilizers, fully attest that it has not been excelled.

Price $56 per Ton of 2,000 lbs. Discount to Dealers.

GOOD HEALTH

Is paramount to wealth. If the system is in bad order purge out the vile humors and distempers with Roback's Blood Pills, and get the internal organs performing their regular functions, and once in order, keep them so by the daily use of Roback's Stomach Bitters.

DYSPEPSIA.

There is, probably, no one disease with which mankind are afflicted which is the source of so many ailments as Dyspepsia, and there is no more certain cure than Roback's Stomach Bitters.

A REMARKABLE FACT

That not a single instance has come to the knowledge of the proprietors, of the failure of Roback's Medicines to give entire satisfaction in the hundreds of thousands of cases in which they have been used; this is worthy of remark and undeniable evidence of their intrinsic merits.

'LOUD

Is the praise in the mouths of everybody in favor of Roback's Stomach Bitters, Blood Pills and Blood Purifier.

IS IT RIGHT

That you should bid defiance to all natural laws and the science of medical men, and suffer with Dyspepsia or Indigestion when Roback's Stomach Bitters can be procured at any drug store.

THEY WILL CURE YOU

Of Scrofula, Erysipelas, Sick or Nervous Headache, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Consumption, Pain in the Back or Loins, Gout, Pleurisy, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Eruptions and all diseases arising from a disordered state of the stomach, Roback's Blood Pills, Stomach Bitters and Blood Purifier.

AS A PREVENTIVE

Against Malaria, Fever and Ague, and all diseases arising from a torpid state of the liver, there is no medicine so highly recommended as Roback's Stomach Bitters.

GRATIFYING

To know that a reliable remedy is within the reach of everybody for the radical cure of Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Such a remedy is Roback's Stomach Bitters. Sold by all Druggists.

WHO SELLS THEM?

The Agents for the sale of Roback's Blood Pills, Stomach Bitters and Blood Purifier are A. D. BUEHLER and J. M. HUBER, Gettysburg, Pa.

FAHRNEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER,

OR PANACEA.

THIS well known and popular medicine was formerly put up in packages by Dr. Fahrney, near Boonsboro', Md., but is now put up in a liquid form, and is highly commended for all Chronic or long standing Diseases. Hundreds of testimonials could be given, but the following will suffice:

"Dr. P. Fahrney's Blood Searcher or Panacea," is a medicine that we can recommend to those who are afflicted, having used it in our own family and induced our friends with the article; we can, therefore, from experience say that it is a medicine possessing rare medicinal properties. Being a mild purgative, it is well to keep it always in the family where there are children or those subject to colds or other sickness. It is compounded from medicinal Roots, Leaves, Barks, Seeds, and Berries, which are sold to be entirely free from poison. We are personally acquainted with the proprietor, who was our family Physician for several years, and we were at one time raised from a bed of affliction under his judicious treatment.—Christian Family Companion.

FAHRNEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER.—From our personal acquaintance with Dr. P. Fahrney, and from the reputation of the above named medicine in the community where he lives, we can cheerfully recommend it to a fair trial to all who may need a PANACEA for the physical maladies of mortality—until the great PANACEA for all diseases shall be found in the leaves of the tree of life.—Prophetic Watchman.

Sold by Tolman, Crosby & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Chicago, Ill., and by B. A. Fahnestock's Son & Co., Pittsburg, Pa.

Also by A. D. BUEHLER, Gettysburg, Dr. JAMES CRESS, Littlestown, and SHIELDS & MUSSELMAN, Fairfield, Adams county, and by Storekeepers and Druggists generally.

THE GREAT

ZINGARI BITTERS.

A Safe Blood Purifier,
A Splendid Tonic,
A Pleasant Beverage.

A CERTAIN CURE

AND

Preventive of Diseases.

THE ZINGARI BITTERS are compounded from a prescription of the celebrated Egyptian physician, Dr. Cherokus, who, after years of trial and experiment, discovered the Zingari Herb—the most remarkable vegetable production, the earth, perhaps, has ever yielded—certainly the most effective in the cure of disease. It, in combination with the other valuable properties of which the ZINGARI BITTERS is composed, will cure

Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Colic, Colds, Bronchitis, Consumption in its first stage, Flatulency, Nervous Debility, Female Complaints, Rheumatism, Dysentery, Acute and Chronic Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Yellow Fever, Scrofula, Diseases of the Kidneys, Habitual Costiveness, &c., &c.

In the PREVENTION and CURE of the above diseases, it has never been known to fail, as thousands of our most prominent citizens throughout all parts of the country, will testify. Let the afflicted send for circulars containing testimonials and certificates of those who have been cured after their cases have been pronounced hopeless by our best physicians.

CHICKEN CHOLERA & GAPES.

BE SURE TO GET THE ORIGINAL

STONEBRAKER'S

BENGAL POWDERS.

A Sure and Speedy Cure for Cholera in Young and Old Chickens and Turkeys.

And at the same time will prevent and cure Gapes, and all diseases incident to Fowls. Every true lover of Poultry should secure a few Packages. And feed their young Chickens so as to promote good health and make them thrive much faster. Directions on each Package and only 25 cents each. Be sure to ask for STONEBRAKER'S Powders to insure the original article for Fowls; beware of the spurious and worthless preparations which have been put out by Clotworthy & Co., of Baltimore.

Caution to the Public.

Read the following letters:

SHEPHERDSTOWN, July 21, 1868.

Mr. Henry Stonebraker: I have used your Bengal Powders and they acted like a charm, and cured every one. At first I used Messrs. Clotworthy & Co's. After I fed 2 chickens it killed both; I then fed 30 and out of the brood there were but 6 left. I can recommend yours very highly and my neighbors think they are splendid. Yours truly,

THOS. B. WILLIAMS.

ST. MARY'S COUNTY, June 16, 1868.

Mr. Henry Stonebraker: My nephew tells me that you wish my opinion about the package of Poulterer's Friend, I used of Messrs. Clotworthy & Co's. make. I could not say that it killed the chickens. I only know that more had the gapes and died after using it than before, and my neighbors are of the same opinion as myself concerning it. My brother-in-law had 30 chickens, and after feeding with it, lost all but four of them.

I am very respectfully yours,

R. J. PENN.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague district, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.
